Toledo, Ann Arbor
AND
Grand Trunk R'y
First Mortgage 6 Per Cent.
Forty-Year Gold Bonds.
Total Issue - $1,260,000
Interest payable Jan. 1 and July 1, in New York.
PRINCIPAL DUE JAN. 1, 1921.
Issued at rate of $15,000 per Mile.

These Bonds are issued to provide for the extension of the Toledo and Ann Arbor line to Pontiac, Mich., 28 miles further north, to a connection there with the Grand Trunk Railway, and to afford that Railway and various intersected lines an outlet to Toledo. This extension is now nearly completed and will be open ... to ... a ... of 84 miles from Toledo to Pontiac on which these bonds are a ... mortgage.

THE EARNINGS.

The gross earnings, expenses and net earnings of the Division from Toledo to Ann Arbor, ... for the last three months ... as follows:

On 46 Miles	Earnings	Expenses	Net
March	$11 45	$ 0	$ 77
April	5 45	6 000	5 890
May	13 000	7 000	6 00

Net earnings for the last three months ... $ 5 475
Net earnings for the year at this rate to ... 00
Interest on bonds at $1 000 per mile for ... is only ... 4 400
The present net earnings on 43 miles are already sufficient for the interest charges on the whole issue of $1,260,000 first mortgage bonds, so that with any increase from the operation of the extension to Pontiac the interest on the bonds is assured. The bonds however cover no additional miles ... that will be extremely productive from the valuable connections secured.
If the earnings upon the whole line be at same rate as upon 46 miles the net earnings will be $137,500 ... interest charges are only $ ... It is ... to ... earn ... a larger ratio

STATE NEWS.

Androscoggin

The Lewiston Journal says There were in this city several people who worked themselves into a state of high fermentation in the expectation that on Sunday, the nineteenth, would simultaneously occur the planetary conjunction and the final collapse of all things terrestrial. We do not hear of any person who went so far as some Western people who are reported to have refused to plant their crops but two or three Lewistonians supposed they had wound up their earthly affairs Saturday night. One prophet predicted that the final crash would be preluded by seven terrific peals of thunder, between 2 o'clock A M and the following midnight. Another man got inside a white nightgown and gazed all night at the heavens. Both parties ate three substantial meals on Monday but are a little disgusted at the failure of their programme. They are not approachable on the topic now. A small party of men and women gathered in an up town tenement and remained in a fever of excitement watching and waiting for what didn't come.

Cumberland

Mr Charles ... of Portland, was splitting an old board, Friday, when the board flew up and two nails tore his wrist badly, penetrating to the bone. He suffers intense pain and the doctors consider it a very serious case.

A boy living at Trefethen's Landing, Peaks' Island, fell from the high beams of a barn Saturday afternoon and broke his leg. He lay four or five hours before a physician could be called to attend him.

Franklin

Farming prospects in Franklin are not promising at the present time. All kinds of vegetation are backward and small. The hay crop will be below an average at best and, unless we have rain within a very few days, will be extremely light, particularly in old fields.

Hancock

Special agent Davis of the Treasury Department, was in Ellsworth Tuesday and Wednesday of last week making the examination as required by law of the accounts and business transactions of the custom house.

The house of Charles Gerry, at Ellsworth Falls, was burned on Friday last. The contents were mostly saved. No insurance.

The body of a boy named Charles Bickford was found in the river near Ellsworth falls, on Friday last. He had been missing two or three days and came to his death no doubt by accidental drowning.

Preparations for the celebration on the coming Fourth are in progress. A meeting of the citizens is called for Monday evening of this week, to devise means to prevent the sale of intoxicating liquors on the day of the celebration.

Kennebec

The Augusta Journal says at the quarry of the Hallowell Granite Company, twenty new men have recently been employed, and there is work enough on hand to guarantee the employment of as many more.

The Kennebec Central R R Company held a meeting at the office of the Hallowell Granite Company on Saturday but owing to the absence of the president Hon J R Bodwell, and quite a number of the members no important business was transacted. The Company adjourned to meet again in July.

The Journal says Gen George Lewis Cooke, of Warren R. I., is in Augusta, making an inventory of the entire Sprague property in behalf of Trustee Chaffee and a committee of the creditors. The cotton mill, saw mills, real estate and everything connected with this princely property is to be sold at auction, July 27th.

Waldo,

Troy and vicinity are suffering for rain. The great drouth of last season so killed out the grass roots that the grass came up very thin in the old fields this spring, and had it not been for the rain in May the outlook would have been discouraging. There has been no rain of any amount since the May freshet. It seems as though the ground never dried so fast before as it does now. The frost killed most every vegetable that was out of the ground. If there is not rain soon the hay crop will be very light.

Washington

Danforth village, situated on the line of the E. & N. A. Railway, eighty-eight miles from Bangor, has come up to importance since the construction of the railroad in 1870. At that time it contained but three or four houses. At present it is laid out with streets on which are dwellings, stores and school buildings. The Baptist society have laid the foundation for a new church. The Methodists have a prosperous society and contemplate a camp-ground. Good win Bros have a saw mill in active operation and cut from two to three car loads of lumber daily employing about twenty men. The lumber is loaded directly from the saw on to the cars. The village contains a population of about six hundred, has eight or ten stores, a grist mill, three blacksmiths' shops, one owned by M. S. Springer, the largest and best in the State. The place is the center for the towns of Weston, Bancroft, Amity and Orient, all good farming towns, although lumber is the chief industry. Something has been done in fruit. Among the hardy varieties found growing in this section are the Red Astrachan, Duchess of Oldenburg, Alexander, Fameuse, Peabody, Greening, and a plum called Moore's Arctic is said to be very hardy, early and fruitful. Fish and game abound in great abundance. A small party came in with seventy pickerel, all caught in one day. One man has killed three bears within a few weeks.

WHAT CONKLING'S ELECTION WOULD MEAN

[From the N Y Tribune]

Mr Conkling's friends make the point that now notwithstanding that gentlemen has made a mistake in the matter of his resignation, the Republican party cannot afford to offend him or drive him out of the party Begging their pardon I is not a question of offending him or driving him out of the party He is already mortally offended—and as is well known when he once takes offence he is implacable—and he has already taken himself out of the party Leaving out the question whether up can be smoothed over and appeased, we ask these gentlemen once more to consider in perfect calmness what would be the meaning of such a reconciliation and what its cost to the party. The Republican party has given Mr Conkling no cause of offence—none at least, needing to be explained or defended It has declined to nominate General Grant at his dictation and it was supposed that had been considered He raised an issue of an entirely personal character with the President, and it is said it to the Senate where his influence was believed to be unbounded—lost by a three—and in a burst of unreasoning passion threw up his commission and took an appeal to his constituents

Is there any doubt as to the meaning under such circumstances of a vote returning him to the Senate? Was there ever an issue more definitely and clearly stated? It stands out distinct bold unrelated to any other question in politics A vote to send Roscoe Conkling back to the seat he flung himself out of in a passion would be a decided rebuke arraying of the Republicans of the State against the Administration and against it all own party in the Senate No other meaning could attach to it Talk about a new party There is your new party already It's the Conkling party with no distinct principle no issue no platform other than that Mr Conkling can do no wrong The Legislature of New York and the Republican party of this state have been vindicated? Mr Conkling have returned him to the Senate For what? For nothing less than to oppose the Republican Administration and the Republicans in the Senate He resigned because he was not in accord with them The party that vindicates him by returning him by that act indorses his course and puts itself in antagonism with its own Administration and its own friends in the Senate

That is what it would cost to conciliate Mr Conkling The Republican party of New York puts itself in opposition—not to Secretary Blaine, the Conkling bugaboo—not to the President not to the Cabinet, not to any of these or the Senate alone, but to President, Cabinet, Senate and the entire party outside of this State Here is a new party already sprung into existence On what lines? Sure enough what On the appointment of a Collector of the Port? No for that matter is settled beyond reach of change. What then? Why there is no issue at all, except that this lofty person has made a most astounding ass of himself and wants to be vindicated for it and justified in it by having the entire party do the same thing We are told that Mr Conkling will leave the party if he can't have his own way and that the party cannot afford to lose him We believe he has left the party already, and that the party can get along better without him than he without the party

THE STRUGGLE AT ALBANY

CONFERENCE OF BOTH SIDES

[Albany Special to the London Journal June 9]

There have been signs for several days that some of the Conkling men were about to desert their noted leader To hold them in line a conference of his supporters was called by Mr Conkling to night Mr Conkling in a two hours speech fairly besought the following to still continue voting for him He painted the difference of opinion among the Administration men in glowing colors and predicted that soon there would be a fatal demoralization among them He directly advocated an adjournment of the Legislature while nothing of his followers notto off the adjournment resolutions The purpose of his advice was to escape if possible, blame for adjourning the Legislature without electing the United States Senators

THE ADMINISTRATION CONFERENCE

was a tendeal by 15 members Mr Chick ering off red a resolution, which was unanimously adopted pledging all present to remain till December 31 if necessary in order to elect two Republican United States Senators, and also pledging member in no case ever to vote for Conkling or Platt or any opponent of the National Administration

CONKLING AND THE REPUBLICAN CENTRAL COMMITTEE

NEW YORK, June 21 Mr Conkling's friends do not dare let the Republican Central Committee hitherto the very essence of the machine with Vice President Arthur hold a meeting A meeting was ordered for this evening and a though enough members were present for a quorum they would not answer to their names George Bliss a Conkling man said plainly that the members did not dare come out for the ex Senators and that such ingratitude would result in the reorganization of the committee.

Mr F Ratchford Starr, proprietor of the world renowned Echo farm, and owner of many fine Jerseys as are to be found in the world has for some time contemplated holding annual sales of Echo Farm stock The sale is to be on Thursday and Friday, June 23 and 24 at Charter Oak park Hartford The number of animals to be sold has not yet been decided on, but will comprise some of the best specimens of the herd, among which will be 'Litchfield' and 'John Rex,' two noted Jerseys, which have taken first prizes whenever exhibited

President Garfield has won a fresh outburst of admiration from the women of the country by appointing Miss G M Gillette a notary public in the District of Columbia Miss Gillette, who is a lawyer, is the first woman appointed to the office of notary public

The album presented to Mrs. Hayes by the women of the United States has this sentiment with Mark Twain's autograph "Total abstinence is so excellent a thing that it cannot be carried to too great an extent. In my passion for it I even envy it so far as to totally abstain from total abstinence myself."

Sons of America.

PORTLAND, June 22. The Patriotic Sons of America met at 8 o'clock. Routine business occupied the morning session. The new white degree ritual was adopted. The statistics show 250 camps, with 20,000 members in the country.

The committee on the state of the order recommended that no change be made at present in the red and blue degrees, and it was agreed to. Application was made for the restoration of the State charter of New Jersey, and it was agreed to whenever seven camps shall be organized there. Past National President F. E. Siees presented a dedicatory service, which was adopted and ordered printed for sale to the camps.

Notice was given that the State Camp of Maine would be instituted at 7 this evening and the National Camp then adjourned until to-morrow morning.

The members were then received by the Portland Camp with a band and escorted to a pleasure steamer in which they sailed at 4 o'clock for Little Chebeague Island, where a clam-bake will be held.

The State Camp was organized this evening by national officers and the following were elected: State President, A. L. Farnsworth, Portland; Vice President, ... Perry Staben; M. of T. C., J. W. ... Manchester, Bar Harbor; Secretary, J. Frank Day, Deering; Treasurer, Noah B. Knight, Ferry village.

Medical Association.

PORTLAND, Me., June 22. The Maine Medical Association met in second day's session at 9 this morning. Several papers were read and discussed and these with routine business occupied the morning session.

Afternoon Session.

After the general business the following officers were elected: President, A. K. P. Meserve; Vice Presidents, B. F. Sturgis, Auburn; C. A. Packard, Bath; Board of Censors, Drs. O. A. Horr, Alfred Mitchell, C. A. Ring, C. F. Haines, O. S. O'Brien; Business Committee, Drs. C. W. Bray, D. R. Robinson, Z. Caldwell.

The annual oration by Dr. James A. Spalding of Portland, followed. This evening the annual dinner was eaten at Gilbert's Hall.

Flags Displayed.

The coasting vessels displayed their flags in our harbor to-day in honor of the abolishment of the compulsory pilotage.

Pastor Installed.

Rev. Dwight M. Seward, D. D., was installed as pastor of Plymouth church to-night.

Odd Fellows.

LOWELL, Mass., June 22. After an excursion to Tyngs Island this forenoon the Maine Encampment of Odd Fellows bade their Lowell entertainers goodbye this afternoon and took the train for home.

The Strike.

BIDDEFORD, June 22. A committee of the strikers waited upon Mr. Howe, the agent, again this forenoon, but no settlement of the difficulty was reached. The Pepperell Mills remains entirely closed, while the Laconia has run 1,100 looms to-day, a slight increase over yesterday. Reports from corporations running 120 mills have been received, showing that on an average the operatives are fully as well paid here as elsewhere. At a meeting of the strikers this evening it was decided not to go back, but to meet again to-morrow night when further reports are expected. Although the strikers still hold out there is a growing feeling of uneasiness among them and the strike is liable to cease at any time. Many operatives are still leaving for other places.

French Convention.

WATERVILLE, June 22. The Convention of the French Catholics has been in session the entire day and this evening with short intermissions. Reports from the French centers in the State were received and read. The Convention then discussed the school question, earnestly and thoroughly; the just remuneration for labor and the prevention of strikes; naturalization and its advantages; the duties of the people towards the press and duties of the press towards the people; emigration and the modes to be adopted to prevent it. The formation of National societies were generally discussed in their order, with intelligence and an apparent desire to get at the true solution of the questions under debate. A vote of thanks to the press for favorable notice of the meeting was unanimously adopted. Additional delegates arrived to-day and an increasing interest in the Convention is apparent. It bids fair to mark an epoch in the social life and status of the French residents of Maine.

Displayed their Flags.

BELFAST, June 22. The coasting vessels in this port displayed their flags to-day in honor of the new bill abolishing compulsory pilotage through Hell Gate.

MASSACHUSETTS.

Hurled into Eternity.

BROCKTON, June 22. As the morning train from Fall River was approaching Huntington Heights station, a mile north of this place, a hack driven by Michael Early was struck by the engine, demolishing it, killing one horse and badly injuring the other. Early was killed and two occupants of the carriage, James Bennett and James Shields, were terribly injured, probably fatally. No blame is attached to the engineer.

Sudden Death.

WHITE RIVER JUNCTION, June 22. Mr. Charles B. Sawtelle, of Cambridgeport, Mass., who has been in the drug business in Boston for several years past, fell from a chair to the floor, dead, this afternoon, at the residence of Mrs. Charles H. Gibbs, in West Lebanon, N. H.

PENNSYLVANIA.

The Second Ballot—Votes Changed From Jacobs.

Chickering offered a resolution that to-morrow the convention remain without food, except bread and water, until two Republican Senators are elected.

The President declared the resolution out of order and the convention proceeded to vote again.

At the conclusion of the roll call Senator Fowler rose and said it had been given out that the votes cast for John C. Jacobs were void and in view of the fact that such may be the decision of the convention and thus an election forced, at the request of Senator Jacobs he would change his vote to Clarkson N. Potter.

It was then decided to recall the names of the Democratic members and they voted for various candidates.

The vote then stood as follows:

	Senate.	Assembly.	Total.
Jacobs,	2	10	12

Lapham,	1	3	4
Tremaine,	0	1	1

The convention then adjourned.

Discussion in the Assembly.

In the Assembly to-day Potter asked consent to offer a current resolution to adjourn the Legislature to Saratoga next Monday. This was objected to by several members. Potter then moved to lay all orders of business on the table so as to offer this resolution. By consent the matter was laid aside till after the Joint Convention and the Assembly went into Joint Convention.

On reassembling, without taking up Potter's resolution, the House adjourned till to-morrow.

Democratic Caucus.

The Democrats of both houses met in caucus this afternoon, M. C. Murphy presiding.

Assemblyman Benedict called attention to the sudden and unexpected withdrawal of the candidacy of Senator Jacobs and asked for an explanation.

Senator Jacobs took the floor and explained that he had been informed that the Governor would declare the votes cast for him for U. S. Senator as void. He said he had the moment of being informed of this determined to withdraw his name from the canvass. The effect he said of declaring his vote void would be the election of some Republican candidate who happened to get a majority of a quorum with the Democratic vote omitted.

After remarks from Senator Fowler and Assemblymen Brown, Spinola and Mills, Mr. Browning moved that the roll be called and a candidate for the short term vacancy be informally named. Inquiry was made whether Senator Jacobs was a candidate, or whether his name was withdrawn. Senator Jacobs in response said he would leave the question to the caucus. Mr. Brooks after speaking in the highest terms of Senator Jacobs said if he had been present at the caucus which nominated him he would have urged that his nomination under the constitution would be an improper one. He regretted the necessity of making these remarks, but thought them called for under the circumstances.

The roll was then called with the following results: Clarkson, 21; Potter, 6; Abram, 5; Hewitt, 0; Erastus Corning, 16; John C. Jacobs, 4; Judge Pratt, 1; Horatio Seymour, 2; A. M. Bliss, 2; G. B. Bradley 1; W. S. Hancock, 1; S. D. Babcock, 1; John T. Hoffman, 2. Before the vote was announced Senator Murtha said it was the desire of Senator Jacobs that he should not be renominated. Another vote was had with the following result: Potter, 39; Corning, 18; Bradley 1. Mr. Benedict moved to make the nomination of C. T. Potter unanimous, which was carried. Jacobs moved that the subject of pairing be committed to a committee of two Senators and three Assemblymen, and no pair will be recognized which does not meet with the approval of the committee; adopted.

The Chair announced the following as the committee: Senators Jacobs and Stevens; Assemblymen Spinola, Browne, and Stanley. Spinola moved that every motion for final adjournment of the Legislature be voted for as a unit. Carried. The caucus then adjourned.

Canal Conference.

ALBANY, N. Y., 23. The usual conference was held this afternoon and to-night. There is a growing restiveness among the members and a large majority strongly desire to adjourn and leave the contest undecided. The Democrats especially are of this disposition and will vote with the other section at any time for adjournment. The leading stalwarts under advice of Conkling, are opposed to an adjournment yet.

LONG BRANCH.

Mrs. Garfield Improving—Callers on the President.

NEW YORK, June 22. Reports from Long Branch state that Mrs. Garfield is rapidly improving. Among the callers on President Garfield yesterday were Cyrus W. Field, Collector Merritt and Secretary Lincoln. Postmaster James is expected to-day. The Pennsylvania Editorial Association are at Long Branch and a committee including Charles Smith, formerly editor of the Albany Journal, waited on Mr. Garfield, but no politics were discussed.

Secretaries Windom and Hunt and Postmaster-General James arrived from Washington this evening, Secretary Lincoln meeting them at Monmouth Junction. President Garfield was out riding when Gen. Grant arrived. While President Garfield partook of dinner Gen. Grant visited the hotel, but sought no interview with the President and as yet they have not met.

TERRIBLE ACCIDENT.

AN UNCLE OF PRESIDENT GARFIELD

KILLED BY A PASSING TRAIN.

Mrs. Arnold, the President's Cousin, also Fatally Injured.

LONG BRANCH, June 22. A despatch has just been received from Newburgh, Ohio, saying:

"Father died at 5 P. M."

(Signed) C. S. GARFIELD.

RANDALL, O.

Thomas Garfield killed by the cars. Mrs. Arnold's skull crushed. Come immediately. These despatches were instantly handed to the President.

Later.

PITTSBURG, Pa., June 22. A despatch from Meadville, Pa., says Thomas Garfield, aged sixty-five years, uncle of President Garfield, was probably fatally injured this afternoon. He was in a carriage with his niece and attempted to cross the railroad track at Randall station, on the Mahoning Division of the New York, Pennsylvania & Ohio Railway, ahead of the passenger train, when the engine struck and completely demolished the carriage. The lady was thrown upon the pilot, but with the exception of slight bruises escaped uninjured.

Another Account.

CLEVELAND, June 22. Shortly after three this afternoon the east bound train on the New York, Pennsylvania & Ohio Railway, when about 12 miles from here, struck a buggy in which were riding Thomas Garfield, uncle of President Garfield, and Mrs. Alonzo Arnold, sister of Dr. Boynton, and cousin of the President. Thomas Garfield was instantly killed and Mrs. Arnold's skull so badly fractured that her life is despaired of. The buggy was dragged about 200 feet before the train stopped. Mr. Garfield is 80 years old and leaves seven children. Gen. Garfield and Dr. Boynton were telegraphed to at Long Branch.

MICHIGAN

A BOLD ROBBERY.

DETROIT, June 22. A bold bank robbery was perpetrated at the First National Bank in this city, this noon. A small boy was sent into the Cashier's private office, where he and the President were signing new currency, requesting him to step to the sidewalk to see a man. The Cashier stepped out of the bank leaving the President busily engaged in signing sheets of currency.

The man proved to be a stranger who desired a loan and detained the cashier a long time. In the meantime two confederates went into the private office, when one of them boldly stepped up to the President, inquired for the Cashier by name and was told he would be in in a moment. The other scooped up a pile of signed bills and quietly sauntered out followed in a moment by his confederate. The amount taken is $2,050.

WASHINGTON.

An Emphatic Denial from Ex-President Hayes.

WASHINGTON, June 22. A paragraph recently went the rounds of the press purporting to give some disparaging and abusive remarks made by ex-President Hayes about Secretary Blaine. The Secretary wrote a note to the ex-President inquiring as to the authenticity of the report. Mr. Hayes replied at once concluding in these words: "I have to state that the whole paragraph in which your name occurs is a fabrication and that not one of the statements contained in it referring to you, was either made or authorized by me." The ex-President had previously written to President Garfield, disclaiming and denying all reports that attributed to him any reflections or adverse comments upon the policy or measures of the administration.

Secretaries Hunt and Windom and Postmaster General James, with several members of their respective families, left by the limited express to-day for Long Branch. Attorney-General McVeagh, who is now in Philadelphia, will go to Long Branch to-morrow. Secretaries Blaine and Kirkwood are the only members of the Cabinet now in this city. The former expects to leave the latter part of next week with his family for Augusta, Maine.

NEW YORK.

National Temperance Convention.

SARATOGA, June 22. At the National Temperance Convention this morning Vice Presidents were elected including ex-Gov. Howard, of Rhode Island, John B. Gough, and also the following: Maine, Mrs. L. M. N. Stevens; New Hampshire, F. S. Crawford; Vermont, Rev. P. Merrill; Massachusetts, James H. Roberts; Rhode Island, P. A. Schness; Connecticut, John G. North.

The Committee on Credentials reported 337 delegates, representing Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, District of Columbia, Georgia, Ohio, Louisiana, Illinois, Michigan, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Minnesota, Oregon, California, Canada and certain national bodies such as the general religious assemblies and other organizations.

Miss Frances E. Willard spoke on Women's Temperance Work.

The resolutions passed to-day at the Temperance Convention affirm that the absolute legal prohibition of the manufacture and sale of all alcoholic beverages, is the only legislative remedy for the evils of intemperance, and further that this principle ought to be incorporated into the organic law of all the States.

Small Pox Patients on Trains.

The Telegram states that a large number of immigrants by steamer Brittania were sent west by rail Monday night. On their arrival at Oneida four cases of small pox had broken out and on reaching Syracuse the authorities were appealed to but refused to receive the sick and the train moved on with them. Twenty-three hundred immigrants arrived here to-day.

College Crew.

The Columbia College eight who row with the Harvard crew at New London, Conn., left for New London this evening.

Outrageous Treatment of a Boy.

Henry Daniels was to-day sentenced to the penitentiary for six months for cruelty to the fourteen years old child of a woman with whom he was living. The boy was an idiot and was kept caged up in a filthy room at Daniel's house. It is one of the worst cases of cruelty to children ever discovered in this vicinity.

A Bad Beginning.

Brown & Co., fancy goods dealers of Grand street, Monday received an anonymous communication, demanding $500 and threatening death if refused. They notified the police. The directions in the letter were followed and the writer was arrested to-day and proved to be Charles Zelsi, a German twenty-two years old, and who had been in this country only two weeks.

Sundry Items.

It is stated that the Western Union will now pay its dividends recently declared but held in abeyance pending the legal decision.

It is stated that the citizens' purse of a quarter of a million dollars to Gen. Grant will not be paid him until the return of George Jones from Europe in September.

CALIFORNIA.

A Destructive Fire.

MERCED, June 22. A fire to-day swept over some 7250 acres of wheat and other grain, destroying everything in its course, including many farm houses, barns and much farming machinery.

A despatch from Tombstone, Arizona, says the town is burning. A large portion of the place is already destroyed.

A Milwaukee despatch says Albert Blowm' straw hat manufacturer has made an assignment. Liabilities probably $320,000; assets $191,000.

After the conclusion of the walking match at the rink to-day, Mr. Duryea, of New York, offered to match Rowell against any three men in the world for a six days' race, the three men to take up running when they liked, for a purse of $10,000, the winner to take the whole of the gate money. At the close of the match, Rowell looked perfectly fit and well.

WOMEN WHO SUFFER.

The greatest sufferers in the world are women; their delicate organization being peculiarly susceptible to derangement and disease. Among those who have been cured by Dr. David Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" we will name Mrs. S. A. McIlwain of Fergusonville, N. Y., Mrs. John F. Brinkerhoff, Highland, N. Y., Mrs. Edward Meyers, of Rondout, N. Y. and many others. "Favorite Remedy" purifies the blood, invigorates the system, and fortifies it against the disease. All druggists have it. d&w2w jun10

"I DON'T WANT THAT STUFF."

Is what a lady of Boston said to her husband when he brought home some medicine to cure her of sick headache and neuralgia which had made her miserable for fourteen years. At the first attack thereafter, it was administered to her with such good results that she continued its use until cured, and was so enthusiastic in its praise, that she induced twenty-two of the best families in her circle to adopt it as their regular family medicine. That "stuff" is Hop Bitters.—Standard.

REGULATE THE SECRETIONS.

In our endeavors to preserve health it is of the almost importance that we keep the secretory system in perfect condition. The well-known remedy, Kidney-Wort, has specific action on the kidneys, liver and bowels. Use it instead of dosing with vile bitters or drastic pills. It is purely vegetable, and is prompt but mild in action. It is prepared in both dry and liquid form and sold by druggists everywhere.—Reading Eagle.

"WOMEN NEVER THINK."

If the crabbed old bachelor who uttered this sentiment could but witness the intense thought, deep study and thorough investigation of women in determining the best medicines to keep their families well, and would note their sagacity and wisdom in selecting Hop Bitters as the best, and demonstrating it by keeping their families in perpetual health, at a mere nominal expense, he would be forced to acknowledge that such sentiments are baseless and false. —Picayune.

By the timely use of Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites, the Nerves regain their vigor, and the Brain becomes clear and powerful. Indigestion and habitual Costiveness almost always arise from weakness of the nerves and muscles of the stomach and bowels. In such cases, Fellows' Syrup of Hypophosphites has proved itself of the greatest service by inducing healthy peristaltic action of the intestines. The evacuations soon become copious and healthy, without producing the effect of purgative medicines. d&wlw june10

Railway will run an excursion train on that occasion, and tickets from Bangor to Sussex and return, will be sold at the very low rate of five dollars. See advertisement for particulars.

FREIGHT BUSINESS. The freight business on the several railroads leading into this city, as well as on the steamboat lines, still continues quite heavy. Yesterday the E. & N. A. Railway Company brought thirty-four loaded cars into this city. The Bangor & Piscataquis train had seventeen cars, including eight loaded with spool stuff, which will be shipped by Henry Lord. The Boston boat also had a large quantity of freight when she sailed yesterday morning.

BRADFORD ITEMS. Our correspondent "K." writes: A little child of John Duran, aged two years, was accidentally scalded a few days since, from the effects of which it died soon after.——Wm. D. McGregor is about to open a hotel at North Bradford, to be known as the North Bradford Exchange.——It is reported that the potato bugs have again made their appearance in this vicinity and farmers fear that much damage will be done to the potato crop.——There was a break in the machinery at Charles P. O. Buck's to Orneville, commenced his job a short time since.

ST. JOHN'S COMMANDERY. One of the many pleasant events in the history of St. John's Commandery, K. T., occurred at the meeting last evening, on which occasion Mr. J. Edwin Sherman presented the Commandery with an elegant Sovereign Masters' robe and crown. The robe is made of scarlet silk velvet, trimmed with ermine and gold braid, and has a deep ermine collar. The crown is made of gold, with scarlet velvet top, ermine trimming and studded with two rows of elegant jewels, twelve in number in each row. This magnificent gift was presented in person by Mr. Sherman, who was formerly a member of this Commandery, but now a member of De Molay Commandery, of Boston. Eminent Commander M. M. Hastings accepted the gift with a few appropriate remarks, after which Mr. G. W. Snow read a poem written for the occasion. Past Eminent Commander J. Fred Leavitt also made brief remarks. Mr. Sherman, who will be remembered as the former private Secretary of Hon. James G. Blaine, came to Bangor to accompany St. John's Commandery on their excursion to Bath to-day. The Knights will leave here on the morning train, accompanied by the Bangor Band, and will return Saturday.

Much interest is already being manifested by the young men of this city in the organization of a company of fantastics on the coming Fourth. There is likely to be a lively competition in the matter, and the result will be a most ludicrously grotesque procession. Bangor boys seldom do things by halves.

MUSIC BY THE LAKE-SIDE.

The Maranocook Festival a Great Success.

Ten Thousand Persons Present.

"All aboard—all aboard!" cried Conductor Anderson, in a cheery voice, and the long excursion train rolled out of the Maine Central depot yesterday morning, en route to Maranocook. The two regular trains, the way and the express, had already gone, well filled with passengers, yet there seemed to be no diminution in the crowd assembled at the depot. A very large number of our citizens as well as a great many people from the up-river towns, responded to the conductor's summons, and at 7:45 a good-natured party were being whirled along on the jubilee train. At every station large accessions were made, until by the time the train reached Waterville, there was scarcely standing room in the cars. Here additional cars were obtained, and we went merrily on, until "Here we are—here we are!" in all the notes from low D to high C mingled with the shout of the brakeman—"Marrannercook!" We consult our watches and find that it is already nearly eleven o'clock, the hour assigned for the beginning of the public rehearsal. The grounds are alive with a jostling, laughing mass of people. The seats in the musical amphitheatre seem already nearly filled, but the master spirit that is to direct the festival has not come—Prof. Torrens has not arrived. But even while we are speaking, a monster train drawn by two locomotives has stopped at the long platform. It is the train from Portland. An eager crowd rushes out of the line of cars, and now a cheer tells us that the Germania orchestra has arrived. We follow the moving current and are so fortunate as to obtain a location at the edge of the platform and at the side of the director's stand. Suddenly the crowd bursts into prolonged applause and we see Prof. Torrens mounting to his position. A few hurried words—a nod here—a wave of the hand—and order is brought out of chaos; the Germania orchestra take seats just in front of the director; the anvils are ranged in two lines running parallel and extending from the front to the rear of the platform; a semicircular tier of seats, rises in an inclined plane around the platform. The seats will accommodate one thousand and are already nearly filled.

THE REHEARSAL.

At twelve o'clock Mr. Torrens flourished his baton, and immediately a grand burst of melody from the giant chorus, organ and orchestra, filled the air and echoed across the lake. The rehearsal had commenced, the opening selection being Mozart's "Gloria from 12th Mass." The lateness of the hour forbade a full rehearsal of the entire programme. The appearance of Mrs. H. F. Knowles, the Boston soprano, in "Inflammatus" from Stabat Mater, was the occasion of prolonged applause. After a rehearsal of many of the numbers the musicians were dismissed until quarter past two, when they would be summoned by the sound of a cornet.

DINNER.

And now came the grand rush for dinner. Nine special trains had arrived, and between nine and ten thousand people were on the grounds. The main dining hall will perhaps seat five hundred, and the hungry multitude who were unable to enter felt that the wise ones were those who had brought their dinners with them. A large restaurant stand, superintended by Caterer Murry, was well supplied with cake, sandwiches, milk, ice-cream, etc., so that none went away hungry.

THE BAND STAND.

During intermission we strolled about the beautiful grounds which have already been quite fully described in the columns of this paper. We observed, however, that many improvements had been made since our last visit. Many conveniences have been added; the band stand, situated on the water, has been completed, and is probably the handsomest one in Maine. It is located at the easterly extremity of the grove, and is connected with the shore by a short, light bridge. It is built over water nine feet deep, on a crib filled with stones. It is circular in shape, and about fifteen feet in diameter. The exterior is very elaborately latticed and carved with lyres and other musical emblems, while a large, gilded dome blazes in the sun, on the arched roof, and makes it the most royal of all the band stands. The rest of the stand is gaily painted in red, white and blue.

AN ORDERLY CROWD.

A lock-up for refractory visitors at the grove has been recently built, though, happily, there was no use for it yesterday. Indeed it was the most orderly crowd of people ever assembled anywhere. Among the ten thousand not a solitary individual was observed by us who had the slightest appearance of intoxication. No boisterous conduct—no profanity even—marred the enjoyments of the festival. The police regulations were most excellent, a strong force being on the ground, among whom none presented a more creditable appearance or were more efficient than the representatives of the force in Bangor,—Officers Nickerson, Colson and Al. Reed.

We heard it stated that it was proposed next year to enlarge the dining hall to twice its present size, when a tower will be built.

The fleet on the lake has been increased by the addition of the steamer "Amaroscoggin," the Indian name for Androscoggin. No lake in Maine, to-day, has finer crafts than those that cleave the waters of the lovely Maranocook.

The Maine Central Railroad Company has leased for twenty years twelve acres of field and grove, situated partly in Readfield and partly in Winthrop; on one side of their rails gently sloping to the border of the lake, and on the other rising more abruptly to the horizon. The lake is six miles long.

THE GRAND CHORUS.

At the opening of the concert every available portion of the platform was occupied by the instrumental performers and the singers. The giant-chorus numbered fully one thousand voices. Many of the leading singers of Maine were among them. Among the soloists who went from our city we observed Mrs. Wadgatt, Mrs. Crowell and Mr. Holden. Portland, Lewiston, Bath, Augusta, Rockland, Belfast, Ellsworth, Hallowell, Gardiner, Waterville, Skowhegan, Damariscotta, Thomaston, Bucksport, Dexter, Fairfield, Bowdoinham and Brunswick were largely represented in the chorus. Arrived on the grounds, all local distinctions were abolished. All the sopranos were grouped together, as all the contraltos, basses, tenors, etc. The local choruses lost their identity, and the local directors all surrendered to Mr. Torrens.

CRITICISMS, ETC.

Mrs. H. F. Knowles, of Boston, was the star of the festival. Mr. J. A. Howard, the well known organist, also of Boston, was among the prominent personages. The powerful organ used was one of Geo. Woods & Co.'s make and furnished by them specially for this occasion. It added strength and smoothness to the chorus, and was in all respects a grand instrument. The famous Germania Orchestra rendered the most superb music, and their efforts were heartily applauded.

Very appropriately the well-known "Gloria" was selected as the opening piece. It is particularly adapted for a large chorus, being full of fire and mettle.

"Thanks be to God," from the Oratoria Elijah, was one of the grandest pieces that the chorus attempted.

Mrs. Knowles found an excellent occasion for the display of the powers and capabilities of her voice in the lofty passages of the "Inflammatus," and also in her rendering of the third verse of the "Star Spangled Banner," as a solo.

The anvil chorus was a very pleasing feature of the concert, the forty young ladies with polished hammers, keeping excellent time. Gounod's "Sanctus," and the Oratorio of "Naaman" were each magnificently rendered.

The grand old hallelujah chorus from the "Messiah" closed the festival. The chorus, orchestra and organ found ample scope for their highest powers, producing the most soul-stirring billows of harmony.

We cannot close this report without a word of congratulation for Prof. Torrens. The whole affair was conducted with the most consummate skill, and in every respect exceeded the expectations of Mr. Torrens' most sanguine friends. It was pronounced by leading musicians, of whom there were large numbers present from every quarter, as by far the grandest event that has ever transpired in Maine.

THE UNIVERSALISTS.

Meeting of the State Convention—Second Day's Session.

The Universalist State Convention continued its session yesterday, the different meetings being well attended. Conference meetings were held at 5 A. M. and 8 A. M. At 9 A. M. a business meeting began. The Convention was called to order by the President. The session opened with prayer by Rev. G. W. Quimby, of Augusta. It was voted to omit the calling of the roll of the members. Minutes of the previous meeting were approved. The special report of the Executive Committee on Missionary Work was read and accepted. Discussion followed, and was participated in by Hon. R. Dresser, of Auburn, Rev. W. W. Lovejoy, H. A. Philbrick, A. C. White, G. W. Quimby, I. J. Meade, C. P. Nash, W. G. Gaskin. The report was then laid on the table until 4 P. M. The report of the Treasurer was then submitted. Voted to table the report until 4 P. M.

Rev. A. Kent, of Washington, D. C., then addressed the Convention presenting the claims of the Washington movement. He hopes to establish a church in that city on a permanent basis, and asked for aid.

After the remarks of Rev. Mr. Kent, the devotional service began. Rev. G. W. Perry, of Auburn, preached the Occasional Sermon, subject: "Ministry of Word and Deed."

Adjourned to 2 P. M.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The Convention was called to order at 2 P. M. by the President. Rev. J. B. Weston took charge of this meeting. Prayer was offered by Rev. W. G. Gaskin. Special subject for consideration, "Educational Interests."

Introductory remarks were made by Rev. J. P. Weston, D. D., followed by a report on the condition and needs of Westbrook Seminary, read by Rev. H. A. Philbrick, Chairman of Committee on the Seminary.

Rev. W. R. French followed with a short address on the question, "Are schools of the grade and character of Westbrook Seminary necessary?" He presented an able argument for the construction and support of such schools.

Rev. C. A. Hayden spoke of the location, advantages and attractions of Westbrook Seminary. Dr. J. P. Weston spoke further on the same subject, and said that good educational work had been done in the Seminary within three years. He hoped and believed something would be done in this fiftieth year to put that institution on its feet again. There were men and women in the State able to endow this institution and make it one of the richest and most influential in New England.

After uniting in singing a hymn, the meeting was addressed by Rev. A. Battles. In the evening the time was devoted to a missionary meeting which was profitable as well as interesting. The Conference will continue through to-day.

The Recollections of an "Old Inhabitant."

ORONO, June 21.

Mr. Editor:—You asked in your paper if any of the old people could remember so cold a seventh of June as we had this year. I am one of the old ones, being over eighty years, and can remember a colder seventh of June. I made the following memorandum in Gilmanton, N. H.: "June seventh and eighth, 1816, ice made a quarter of an inch thick." Our neighbor Swain was framing a barn on the seventh; the workmen had on overcoats and mittens, and quit in the afternoon because it snowed. JOHN H. GILMAN.

THE PROPER TIME FOR CUTTING GRASS.

There is an increasing tendency on the part of progressive farmers to cut grass, intended for hay, earlier than formerly. In some of the most eastern States, says the Farm and Fireside, where hay is fed to stock during a period of six to seven months, grass is now cut from one to three weeks earlier than it was twenty years ago. That is, timothy is now cut when in its first blossoms. Professor Emil Wolff, of the Royal Academy of Agriculture, of Wurtemberg, Germany, has determined, by careful analyses, that while green grass contains eighty-eight per cent. of nutritive matter, that in bloom sixty-two, that cut when the seeds are fully formed and ripe contains thirty-one per cent. Red clover, in full blossom contains of flesh-forming substances 13.4, but only 9.4 when fully ripe. Timothy, when cut in blossom, has 9.7 of albuminoids, but when fully matured only 8.2. As the feeding value of hay depends upon the amount of the albuminoids in it, this is a matter of interest to every farmer.

Scientific herbalists have established it as a rule that medicinal plants should be gathered when in flower, and dried in the shade in order to obtain their highest virtues. This rule is equally applicable, so far as it is practicable, in making hay. The hay harvest ought therefore to begin with the season of flowering. Take a good plan to cut red top, June and orchard grass, and possibly a few other varieties, first. Red clover should then follow, letting the cutting of timothy come last. All the grasses should not and cannot well be cut at the same time, for they do not flower at the same time; therefore the time for cutting must be averaged. If some are allowed to nearly ripen their seeds, will become too ripe, and the period of growth for the "after-math," or second crop, will be so reduced that all advantage obtained by waiting will be lost.

It has been demonstrated that plants, of nearly all sorts, if cut when in full vigor and carefully dried, without any waste of their nutritive juices, contain nearly double the quantity of nutritive matter which they do when allowed to attain their full growth and make some progress toward decay. All things considered, the best time to cut grass for hay for fattening purposes, and to insure a good summer and fall growth of after-math, is to cut it when in full flower. Grass cut when in blossom is greatly preferred by cows to that not cut until later; and that it will increase the quantity and quality of the milk product there is no doubt. Frequent showers followed by intense heat is the only justification for allowing grass to stand and bleach in the sun. It is better to err in the direction of commencing haying too soon rather than continuing too late.

At the time suggested for cutting grass it contains the greatest amount of soluble, nutritious matter; therefore it is important that it be not subjected, while curing, to the influences of rain and dew. Too long exposure to the sun's rays is also very injurious. An hour's useless exposure on a hot, windy day is known to cause a loss of fifteen to twenty per cent. of the value of the hay. A common error with inexperienced hay-makers is to scatter or turn it after it is cut, before the weather is suitable for curing it. The stirring of hay when showers are frequent is much more injurious than it is to let it lie two or three days untouched.

Red clover, if designed for hay should be cut not later than when about one-third of the heads have begun to turn brown. Alfalfa (lucerne) should be cut as soon as it begins to flower, or even earlier; otherwise there will be an excess of woody fibre in the hay. Clover should be put into "cocks," as soon as it is wilted, otherwise too many of the leaves will drop off when it is being stacked or housed. Grass should invariably be cut when there is neither rain nor dew upon it. If cut with the mower, let it lie from 11 A. M. to 4 P. M., rake up and put it into small cocks and let it stand, if the weather is favorable, three or four days to cure.

Many an eastern farmer who has located in the south-west has found that some change in the time of cutting and method of curing is a necessity. The slow processes of ripening, common in cooler, northern and eastern localities, is no guide in the south-west, where, owing to the greater dryness of the climate, the succulent stalk will be changed into woody fibre in three or four days. Hay it ordinarily would be in the first-named localities in ten. It will not do either to cut it as close to the ground as one locality as in the other. When cutting timothy and other bulbous-rooted grasses in the west, the stubble should be left high enough to shade the ground until the new growth is sufficient to do it. Set the sickle-bar high enough so that it will not cut below the second joint above the ruber. If cut too low, a top-dressing of well-rotted manure, or litter of some kind, should be applied immediately after the removal of the hay. This will have to be attended to if permanent meadows are desired.

Early cut grass contains a free, vegetable acid that is highly relished by animals, and which it is important should be furnished in the winter food for stock if the best results from feeding are looked for. The practice of early cutting is one that ought to be still more generally adopted than it is. At present no uniform rule can be given for the cutting of the various grasses in a single locality. Much less can a rule be given for all sections of the country. What would be called early with one kind of grass might not be with another; and what one man would call early, another would not. What is now needed to settle this question, to some extent at least, is a careful series of experiments at the agricultural colleges in the various States, as well as at other experiment stations throughout the United States. In conducting them, the relative amount of moisture in the air, the amount of sunshine, temperature, etc., should be accurately recorded.
